

Fort Worth, TX (August 8, 2017) – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Take Your Drinks with You with The QuadBoss Boss Bucket Cooler

Hitting the trail just became more fun thanks to the new QuadBoss Boss Bucket Cooler. QuadBoss is a leading manufacturer of high quality ATV and UTV parts and accessories.

“The Boss Bucket Cooler is awesome,” said Sheila Bradbury, Brand Specialist for QuadBoss. “It’s a handy product that lets you bring your favorite drink with you and keeps them cold. And there is nothing that says you have to store drinks on the inside. You could also bring home the catch of the day if you forgot your fishing cooler!”

The Boss Bucket Cooler fits any 5-gallon bucket (not included) and features eight pockets for additional cans or bottles when you need to keep your hands free. It also has convenient zippered pockets that allow for additional storage.

“We are very proud of this new product,” continues Bradbury. “It was given a Powersports Business Nifty 50 Award and is a great gift for yourself or anyone looking for a way to keep their drinks cold on and off the trail.”

The QuadBoss Boss Bucket Cooler (P/N 156950) retails for $32.99 and can be ordered through your local Tucker Rocky | Biker’s Choice dealer.

About QuadBoss

Founded in 2001, QuadBoss started out selling plows and tire sealant to motorsports dealers in the United States. With the ever-increasing demand for ATV and UTV product, QuadBoss branched out and has become one of the leaders in high-quality replacement parts and innovative accessories, currently working with 1,200 dealers across the country. QuadBoss is known for keeping the ATV/UTV community running – from recreational rider to rancher, all-terrain addict to outdoorsman, work or play. QuadBoss offers a wide selection of tires, winches, trailers, replacement parts and more to make any ATV/UTV a workhorse or trail hound.
